LITTLE MONEY
MUCH WORK

Tate Glad He Has Lost His Title.

SCAVENGERS ARE HAPPY

All are Now Getting Plenty of Work to do.

Everybody Satisfied and Harmony Now Reigns in the Ranks of the Garbage Collectors.

The one-year term of office of R. E. Tate, official garbage collector for the city of Marion, expired the first day of the present month, and with the end of that term was the finish of the plan of having a garbage collection monopoly in this city. Tate, however, says that he is well satisfied with giving up his job. He claims that it was anything but a sinecure, and that he had to go some to make as much money out of it, as he does by working independently without any official title.

Although a number of local attorneys believe that Judge Young of the court of common pleas erred in deciding that the city has no right to restrict the right of collecting garbage to any one man, it is not likely that any attempt will be made to carry the matter to the higher courts. It is said that a Cleveland jurist recently gave a decision exactly opposite to that of Judge Young.

Now, since Tate laid aside his toga of office, all of the garbage collectors in the city are going after the business, and all are sharing the profits to be gained in the work of conveying refuse to the disposal plant.

After the board of public service had appointed Tate as superintendent of garbage collection, other scavengers began to complain. One man brought a suit of mandamus to require the superintendent of the disposal plant to accept material which he took there. Judge Young granted the writ of mandamus, his opinion being that garbage must be accepted at the plant when brought there by any licensed collector. The city, he said, has no right to permit any one man to have a monopoly on the business.

Now that Tate's contract with the city has expired, however, and there is no likelihood that the board of public service will attempt to install the old plan, everyone is satisfied and harmony reigns in the ranks of the garbage chasers.

THE LATEST THING
IN LID LIFTING

An Original Saloonist Hits on a Happy Idea.

Purchases a Monkey and Tells His Friends the Pass Word—They do the Rest.

"I want to see the monkey." Everyone who claims the distinction of being a good citizen, has heard of all the old plans of getting underneath the lid on a hot Sunday afternoon, and coming out with spirit, its enlivened and moustache decorated with a suspiciously foamy substance.

There are many Marion people who have peaceably entered refreshment emporiums through side doors, or have bought some cooling beverage which was called coffee, but which looked more like suds. There are a great majority, however, who have probably never heard of an unique idea for lid lifting that has been instituted by an exceptionally enterprising local saloonist.

Finding that the lid as applied by Mayor Louie is a contrivance which the old side-door and coffee-cup methods cannot phase, this saloonist bought a monkey. It is a meek, feeble bitten illustration of Darwinism of the most flagrant type but it serves the purpose.

Whenever a group of men, with throats so badly parched that they can't speak good English, happen into this particular liquid dispensary, all they have to do is to give the pass word.

"We would like to see the monkey," is the magic sentence. Then a small boy, stationed at the head of a stairway leading into the basement escorts the bunch below. The monkey is there, sure enough, but the thirsty ones pay little attention to him. Maybe they give the little fellow a cursory glance or something like that, but nothing further. The room at the rear is the mecca for all who pass down the stairway.

Unless you are wise to the pass word, it's no go. The monkey is down below and everyone who would slake his thirst is supposed to know.

Railroad Notes

It is said that the Erie freight conductors are protesting against furnishing bonds which has been a recent demand made by the company. The freight men do not handle any of the company's money and they consider it unjust for the company to hold them responsible for the articles of freight which they have under charge by binding them under a $1000 bond. Officials say that the ruling may be changed to effect only passenger conductors.

Superintendent Moser of the Erie has issued a bulletin which was today posted in local railroad offices, announcing that on Thursday April 18 at 11 o'clock the Chicago and Erie railroad will operate in union or by double track with the Cincinnati, Chicago and Louisville railroad between the "Jo" tower near North Judson Indiana and Griffith station. The railroads run parallel between the above stations and the union can be worked to a great advantage. The time table and block signal rules of the C. & E. will govern the movement of trains.

EPIDEMIC OF MUMPS
THREATENS THE CITY

During Past Few Weeks the Disease Has Spread.

A Goodly Number of Pupils of the Public Schools are Confined at Home.

The city is threatened with an epidemic of mumps. During the past few weeks, the disease has been slowly spreading throughout the city, and now quite a number of pupils of the public schools are kept at home by the disease. It is not thought, however, that the condition will become serious.

"There have been comparatively few cases of truancy in the schools during the past few months," says Truant Officer Titus. "Of course, there have been a great many of the children absent at different times, but nearly all have good excuses. There are a few children kept away from school on account of the poverty of their parents, as has always been the case in past years. This is only another indication of the prosperous condition of Marion people."

DELIGHTFUL SOCIAL AT EPWORTH CHURCH

Powell Sunday School Class Holds Meeting.

Following Business Session Refreshments Were Served and Social Time Is Enjoyed.

The Powell Sunday School Class of Epworth M. E. Church held its regular quarterly social in the basement of the church yesterday evening. The attendance was exceptionally large, the company numbering about two hundred.

Preceding the social, a short business session was conducted. President of the class, Fred Hofstetter presided. The quarterly reports of the secretary and treasurer were submitted, showing that the class was in excellent standing. The division leaders of the class were appointed at this time. They are, Milton Bain; F. J. V. Frey, Fred Fatzler, J. G. Mann and Samuel Harris.

Following an interesting address by the teacher, Robert J. Pennell, an informal program of two-minute speeches in which about twenty-five members participated, was enjoyed.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments were served and a general good social time enjoyed. Bruno, the photographer, was present, and before adjournment was called, took a flash light picture of the class.

The success of the social was greatly due to the efforts of the social committee, headed by Clifford Fling and Milton Bain.
